Mills in Chicago and Youngstown districts either closed down completely or working with reduced forces; Negro deputies at Farrell.

By Associated Press.
PITTSBURG, Sept. 24.—"We feel very much encouraged" was the word that came from the Carnegie Steel company offices a few hours after the day shift went to work in the plant of that company in operation. At Clairton it was given out more departments were to be placed in operation today because of the reporting of additional men.

The company had no early reports from the general superintendent at Homestead but information came to the officers from the main gate where men check in that more workers passed in on the day shift than yesterday. At Bradock, it was said, more foreign born workers reported today. Duquesne, which all along has been reported as working 100 per cent by the company, was said to be still operating on the same basis.

William Z. Foster, secretary of the steel workers national committee, did not agree with the reports given out by the Carnegie people. He reiterated that the strike was spreading. He predicted that the Homestead plant would be closed by the end of the week. Commenting on the claims of the Carnegie interests in the Chicago district said that the company is giving out information that they have only a 20 per cent shutdown there while the union leaders there know positively that there is a 95 per cent shutdown.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—While leaders of the striking steel workers in the Chicago district and heads of steel mills each claimed gains there appeared little change today in the number of plants in operation. A majority of the mills were closed and practically every one in operation worked with a reduced force.

MINNESOTA, Sept. 24.—At a mass meeting of the Minnesotans citizens last night in the high school auditorium a Citizens' Protective association was formed by 1,000 citizens who were sworn in for special police duty during the strike. Among them are many employees of the steel plants in this district forced into idleness by the strike. The special policemen will be in charge of Captain W. B. Houston, an overseas man from Greensburg.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 24.—With every steel plant in the Mahoning valley closed down and extreme quiet prevailing, attention here today was directed to the meeting of the national strike committee in Pittsburgh. Besides considering plans for financing the strike the committee is expected to take action on matters of vital interest to local concerns, particularly to the relations between the A. F. of L. of unskilled men and the Amalgamated Association of Iron Steel and Tin Workers.

SIX MONTHS' SHUTDOWN
THREATENED BY INLAND
UNLESS ITS MEN RETURN

INDIANA HARBOR, IND., Sept. 24.—Officials of the Inland Steel company sent an ultimatum to their striking employees today that unless they return to work within two days the company will shut down the plant for six months.

The company's furnaces are said to have cost $2,000,000 each and the expense of starting a fire in a furnace after it has been drawn in set by company officials at $50,000. Union labor leaders said they would ignore the warning.

NEGROES ATTACKED BY MOB
AT CLEVELAND DRAW KNIVES;
THREE MEN CUT; TWO MAY DIE

By Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 24.—Three men were stabbed, two probably fatally, and two others were badly beaten near the entrance of the American Steel and Wire company Newburg plant this morning in the first serious local disorder of the steel strike. The trouble broke out when a street car stopped near the plant to let off men bound for work at the mills.

Among those who got off the car were three negroes. Strike sympathizers sought to stop them from going into the plant, according to the police, and two of the negroes drew knives. A general fight ensued, in which many men in the vicinity of the plants joined. When police reached the scene they found three men had been stabbed, two probably fatally. The negroes returned to the street car for shelter. The car was pursued by hundreds of strike sympathizers and bombarded with bricks and stones and the three men seized and beaten. Police rescued two of them and the third escaped.

STRIKERS WILL CARRY
FIGHT FOR FREE SPEECH TO THE SUPREME COURT

By Associated Press.
PITTSBURG, Sept. 24.—The fight to uphold the constitutional rights of the steel workers will be carried to the highest court John Fitzpatrick, chairman of the national committee for organizing iron and steel workers declared today. This will be one of the important matters to come before the committee which went into executive session shortly after 11 o'clock.

"All matters pertaining to the strike that need our attention will be taken up at today's meeting," Mr. Fitzpatrick said. He declared that he was unable to state what other problems would be considered.

"Every constitutional right of the workers has been denied in the Pittsburgh district," Mr. Fitzpatrick said. "We are going to carry the fight to the highest court. We want justice. The workers demand the protection of the law and are determined to be law abiding and keep within the law."

Mr. Fitzpatrick indicated that an appeal would be made to state and county officials asking them to act. He said the workers asked the right of free speech and free assembly.

OHIO'S THREE STEEL
CENTERS COMPLETELY
PARALYZED BY STRIKE

By Associated Press.
COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 24.—The third day of the nation-wide steel strike found Ohio's three great steel centers at Youngstown, Cleveland and Steubenville completely paralyzed. Union leaders claimed that more than 50,000 steel workers are out of work in Ohio because of the strike.

Cleveland reported the first rioting of the strike there. Four men were stabbed, two probably fatally, and two others were badly beaten at the entrance of the American Steel & Wire company's plant at Newburg. No trouble of any kind was reported in the Youngstown or Steubenville districts. Children were reported about the entrances to the big mills where picketing was reported to have been dispensed with for the most part.

La Clair, Judge Sydney Nicholson, majority inspector and William Hogsett, minority inspector. The recount decreased the vote of J. Calvin Core for council of votes while others on the soldier ticket were gained by the recount. A recount was also made of the vote in the Fourth ward for Sheriff and Director of the Poor, but the only variation found was that in the vote for J. E. Davison for director of the poor.

The return of the election board credited Davison with having received 92 votes while the recount showed 70 votes cast for him. The recount of the first ward school director was made upon petition of Dr. Hagan and that of the First and Fourth wards for sheriff and director of the poor made upon petition of Martin Murphy and Dr. Davison candidates respectively for those offices on the Republican ticket. Murphy's vote in the Fourth ward was 27 in both the original and recount.

AFTER POTATO WART

State Investigators Looking for Disease in Potatoes.

A. J. Kahoe, Robert Myers and A. O. Thum, representatives of the State Department of Agriculture, are working in northern Fayette county in an effort to discover if potato wart has appeared in this section. This is a new and serious disease which was first discovered in this country in 1913. In the coal regions of Luzerne county and it has recently appeared in Cambria county, and in Maryland, south of the Somerset county line.

The disease is the most alarming potato disease known and there seems to be no remedy. The germs live in the soil for seven or eight years. A wart will start from one of the eyes of a potato and will grow until it absorbs the whole tuber. The most reliable and recent information concerning the disease indicates that planting immune varieties is the best way of combating the disease. This method is employed in foreign countries where the disease has existed for years.

Farmers and gardeners who discover anything resembling the potato wart are advised to notify the state department immediately.

LOCAL PICTURE REVIEW

Balsley's Film Collection to Be Shown at Saison, Thursday.

Charles H. Balsley, the local camera man, will put on a review of his big collection of interesting local events dating back to 1912, at the Saison theatre tomorrow. It is interesting to note that in some of Mr. Balsley's early pictures are seen hundreds of children who are now grown-up young men and women, and many of the small boys of a few years ago are seen marching away to war in later years. Not few of the many prominent people in the various events have passed away.

Mr. Balsley has kept close tab on events of interest in and about Connellsville for nearly eight years and his collection is perhaps the most extensive and most complete in the country. More than 5,000 feet of film have been used in making these pictures. Mr. Balsley has kept the collection up to the minute and no occasion of importance has been missed during all these years. The collection is now composed of more than 100 different events.

A FALL SUIT

When a collar extends into a stole that tucks under the belt of a suit and lines itself with gay Chinese embroidery to make a vest, one can hardly be surprised to find that the collar becomes a wide panel, at the back, that blows French blow darts of a soft tulle shade in the material relieved by the vest embroidery that is pale lavender and yellow with a touch of black.

Where Gasoline Can't Go.

The automobile may have won at Verdun, says the Millers and remounts division, but the horse has won more victories than he has hairs on his topknot—for, say they, no victory could have been attained, no push could have succeeded, unless the horse was on the job to pull the guns forward, to take up the rations, the water, the ammunition, through mud where trucks could not go, or over shell-swept ground—equally impossible for the gasoline vehicle.—Stars and Stripes.

Sandbag Exercises.

New exercises for home and gymnasium use, which can be employed in place of either dumbbells or Indian clubs, consist of long, slender sandbags of any desired weight, which are made of durable fabric and provided with rope handles at either end. On the sides of the webbing are loops into which the feet can be inserted for leg exercises. Besides serving the purpose of several types of exercisers, it is pointed out that the sandbags are preferable to Indian clubs and dumbbells in that they can be used noiselessly.

Honest Advertising.

THIS is a topic we all hear now-a-days because so many people are inclined to exaggerate. Yet has any physician told you that we claimed unreasonable remedial properties for Fletcher's Castoria? Just ask them. We won't answer it ourselves, we know what the answer will be.

That it has all the virtues to-day that was claimed for it in its early days is to be found in its increased use, the recommendation by prominent physicians, and our assurance that its standard will be maintained.

Imitations are to be found in some stores and only because of the Castoria that Mr. Fletcher created. But it is not the genuine Castoria that Mr. Fletcher honestly advertised, honestly placed before the public and from which he honestly expects to receive his reward.

Children Cry For

Fletcher's CASTORIA

Special Care of Baby.

That Baby should have a bed of its own all are agreed. Yet it is more reasonable for an infant to sleep with grown-ups than to use a man's medicine in an attempt to regulate the delicate organism of that same infant. Either practice is to be shunned. Neither would be tolerated by specialists in children's diseases.

Your Physician will tell you that Baby's medicine must be prepared with even greater care than Baby's food.

A Baby's stomach when in good health is too often disarranged by improper food. Could you for a moment, then, think of giving to your child anything but a medicine especially prepared for infants and children? Don't be deceived.

Make a mental note of this:—It is important, Mothers, that you should remember that to function well, the digestive organs of your Baby must receive special care. No Baby is so abnormal that the desired results may be had from the use of medicines primarily prepared for grown-ups.

When to Gather Roots and Herbs.

For medicinal purposes, roots and herbs should be gathered when their medicinal properties are at their best. For instance, roots of annual plants should be dug just before their flowering season, and roots of perennial plants after the tops have dried. All these things are taken into consideration in gathering the roots and herbs, many tons of which are used annually in preparing that most successful of all remedies for women's ills, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.—Adv.

SHE WAS SO SICK THEY THOUGHT SHE WOULD SURELY DIE

Would Remain Unconscious.

"My cure was so wonderful that I feel I owe a debt of gratitude to Plant Juice that I never can repay," said Mrs. Alice Wilson, who resides at No. 117 Forth street, Pittsburg, in a recent interview. Continuing, she said:

MRS. ALICE WILSON.
"I had been ill for the past 18 years; at times I was so bad that no one thought I would live. I was treated for catarrh of the stomach, but nothing seemed to help me. I would have fainting spells and fall down anywhere and remain unconscious for hours at a time. At times my mind was a blank for days. My circulation would stop and my hands and feet would become cold and clammy. My food would not digest in my stomach and I was obliged to eat liquids. I lost in weight, being reduced from 136 to 118 pounds. My friends all predicted that I would not live six months. A friend of my husband's recommended Plant Juice to him and he purchased a bottle for me. After taking about one-half of the bottle I got relief. I have been using Plant Juice now for some time, and am glad to state for publication that I have entirely regained my health and am entirely cured. I can eat any kind of food and digest it perfectly; I do not have any more aches or pains and do not have any more fainting spells. I am now doing all of my housework for the first time in years. At the present time I weigh 165 pounds. I can recommend Plant Juice for what it has done for me, and I know it will help all sufferers of stomach and nervous disorders if they will try it. My husband and myself are both truly grateful to your medicine for restoring me to health."

Plant Juice is sold in Connelville at Roy Hetzel's Drug Store and the Connelville Drug Co's Store.

COAL PRICES MAY NEVER RETURN TO PRE-WAR FIGURES

"On April 1, 1918," says the geologist's report, "there was a 30 cent reduction which was maintained for five months. It was not actually a reduction but rather a partial retardation in an advance of 70 cents for stove coal, as an example, which had sold for $5.54 in March sold for $4.85 in April. Then in September the 30 cent reduction was removed and the price raised to $5.24. On November 1 a further advance of $1.05 per ton was granted by the Fuel Administrator to cover further advances in wages. Figures showing the cost of production showed so unfavorably for the coal companies at the expiration of the war that on quitting office, the Fuel Administrator advised that this year instead of the usual summer rebate, the prices be advanced 10 cents a month until the increase amount to 50 cents above the prevailing prices in 1918."

During the first year of the war, Dr. Ashley's report shows that the price of all bituminous coal declined. The spot price of Pittsburgh coal in January, 1913, was $1.22 and in October and November it had reached $1.36 but by July, 1915, it had dropped to 95 cents. Clearfield coal declined from $1.71 in January, 1913, to an average in the latter part of 1913 and all through 1914 of from $1.05 to $1.15. The bottom was reached in Clearfield coal between May and August, 1915, when the price went down to one dollar a ton. Somerset coal started in 1915 with a price of $1.55 but soon dropped to $1.25 and that was maintained through the remainder of 1913 and 1914 and up until November, 1915. During November, 1914, however, the price dropped to $1.18.

"Many persons will doubtless wish that they had had storage facilities to have held in supplies for the rest of their lives as it is quite probable that coal will never again be sold as low," says Dr. Ashley's report. "Unfortunately, coal is a bulky product and many people find it difficult to accommodate even one winter's supply, while the larger power companies often have storage room for only a few days' or a few weeks' reserve. Then, too, most coals tend to deteriorate in the size of lump if not in quality. Besides, if many people had attempted to store coal for the future, the increased demand would have soon sent the prices to higher levels."

Toward the end of 1915 business began to revive and during the first month of 1916 Pittsburgh coal rose to $1.58, dropping back in April to $1.23. Clearfield rose to $2.59 and declined to $1.15 in June. Cambria and Somerset rose to $2.79 but by June and July, 1916, went down to $1.35.

Of the developments which followed, Dr. Ashley says: "Then in August, 1916, came the cry for coal and prices began to soar, and continued going up until February and March, 1917, when the pinnacle was reached. Pittsburgh coal reached its highest price, $5.21, in February, 1917. Clearfield went to $5.15 and Somerset and Cambria reached $5.48 in March. In June came the conference in Washington at which time the prices were $4.97 for Pittsburgh coal, $4.89 for Clearfield and $5.11 for Cambria and Somerset. At the conference sweeping reductions were agreed upon and the new, or Peabody, prices prevailed through July and August. These ran $3.25 for Pittsburgh coal, from $3.46 to $3.74 for Clearfield and from $3.45 to $3.91 for Cambria and Somerset."

"In September, 1917, the government took hold, through the fuel administrator, and the President announced new prices for Pennsylvania which ran $2 for Clearfield, Cambria and Somerset coals and $2.04 for the Pittsburgh coal. In November an increase of 45 cents was allowed to cover an increase in wages to the miners."

"It was soon seen that the so-called thin veined district coals of Clearfield, Cambria and Somerset could not be mined at prices quoted so in February, 1918, the Fuel Administration prices were adjusted to provide for the greater cost of mining in the eastern bituminous districts and increased to $2.75 and during the following month to $2.95.

"In June, 1918, a general reduction of 10 cents a ton was made by the Fuel Administration, leaving prices at $2.95 for Clearfield, Cambria and Somerset coals, and $2.36 for Pittsburgh coal and these prices continued until the end of the war."

Since hostilities have ceased in Europe there has been little change in soft coal prices and at this time, according to Dr. Ashley, there is no indication that prices will take a downward trend. If they change materially at all, they will move upward."

At the Theatres

THE SOISSON.

"THE RED LANTERN"—Nazimova, the distinguished Russian actress, is the attraction today in the powerful drama, "The Red Lantern." She is seen in a dual role, playing both Mahlee, the Eurasian, and Blanche, the English girl. The roles are of such vastly different character that it was amazing to think that one woman could portray them both.

As Mahlee, Nazimova is supreme—depicting the passionate and inscrutable daughter of two races—the child of an English father and a Chinese mother—whose instincts, traditions and emotions surge in constant conflict—making of her a mental outcast, belonging to neither.

The story reaches dramatic heights when the unhappy girl finds that her yellow blood is an insurmountable barrier between a young missionary whom she loves and herself, and that although he is powerfully attracted to her, this difference of race can never be overcome. Wild jealousy grips her when she finds that he really loves her half-sister, Blanche, (also played by Nazimova) and in a frenzy she agrees to the proposal of Sam Wang, who loves her, but whom she hates, to go with him and lead the yellow races in an uprising against the whites. She assumes the fantastic title of the Goddess of the Red Lantern, which thrills the people to a fanatic religious frenzy, and they determine to exterminate the "foreign devils."

Relentless remorse seizes her for what she has done, and at great risk to her own life she tries to save those of her father's race whom she loves.

Of the developments which followed, Dr. Ashley says:

"Then in August, 1916, came the cry for coal and prices began to soar, and continued going up until February and March, 1917, when the pinnacle was reached. Pittsburgh coal reached its highest price, $5.21, in February, 1917. Clearfield went to $5.15 and Somerset and Cambria reached $5.48 in March. "It was soon seen that the so-called

A tragic end occurs when the girl realizes that she belongs to neither people and can never hope for happiness with either.
In beautiful contrast to this unequal struggle is the romance of Blanche and the young missionary.

THE PARAMOUNT.

"DIANE OF THE GREEN VAN"—Starring the beautiful Alma Rubens, supported by Nigel Barrie, Lamar Johnson and other screen stars of prominence, is being shown today.

Diane Westfall longed for the open trail and the zest of adventure. Cities and lights and cafes had lost their charm for the girl whose mother was of the warm south, half Seminole and half Spanish, and she felt the call of the blood. So she fitted up a gypsy wagon and struck the trail for Florida. Philip Poynter, in a gay wagon, and an Houmaian prince, in the disguise of an itinerant organ-grinder, followed her van. A mysterious night attack, in which Philip saved her life, was followed by a series of thrilling episodes which finally led to a Seminole village in the Everglades of Florida where Diane met an Indian girl and through her learned that she was the daughter of a Houmaian prince. The intrigue and mystery of the story is gripping, while the richness and beauty of the settings and scenes are noteworthy for their lavishness. The night scenes in the Everglades showing the moss covered trees and exotic foliage of Florida are unsurpassed.

The fascinating story is carried through by a cast of unusual excellence. The production was made by the Winsome Stars Corporation under the direction of Wallace Worsley, who is to be commended for an excellent piece of work.

A comedy is also being presented.

Look around at the men and women you meet in a single day. One glance is enough to tell the ones with plenty of rich, red blood, strength and physical energy to back up their mental power and make them a success in whatever they undertake.

Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outsides), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital, says that to help make strong, keen, red-blooded Americans there is nothing so valuable as organic iron—Nuxated Iron. It often increases the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, run-down people in two weeks' time. It is conservatively estimated that Nuxated Iron is now being used by over three million people annually, and it has been used and endorsed by such men as U. S. Commissioner of Immigration Hon. "You are willing to work with me, then?"

"Yes, kin bet I am; I ain't no gull-staler."

"Then listen, Kennedy. Jack Rale told me exactly what their plans were, because he needed me to help him. When you jumped the reservation, he had to find someone else, and picked you. They mean to pull off the affair tonight. Here's the story."

I told it to him, exactly in the form it had come to me, interrupted only in the recital by an occasional profane ejaculation, or some interjected question. The deputy appeared sober enough before I had finished, and fully grasped the seriousness of the situation.

"Now that is the way it stacks up," I ended. "The girl is to be taken to this fellow's shack and compelled to marry Kirby, whether she wants to or not. They either intend threatening her, or else to actually resort to force—likely both. No doubt they can rely on this renegade preacher in either case."

"Jack didn't name no name?"

"No—why?"

"Only that aster be a bum hangin' round the river front in Saint Louis who had preacher's papers, on wore a long-tailed coat. That wasn't no low-down game he wouldn't take a hand in for a drink. His name was Gaskins; I bet him up for my own once. It bet he's the duck for he hog round Jack's place most o' the time. Whatcha want to do?"

"It has seemed to me, Tim," I said thoughtfully, "that the best action for us to take will be to let them place the girl in my hands, just as they have planned to do. That will throw them entirely off their guard. Once we succeed in getting her safely away, and remain unknown to ourselves, there ought to be very little trouble in straightening out the whole matter. My plan would be to either ride around the camp in the night, and then report the whole affair at headquarters, or else to strike out direct for Fort Armstrong across country. Do you know any place you can pick up a horse?"

"That's a slow or 'um round yere," he admitted. "These fellows are most all hoss-soldiers. I reckon I can catch sum sort o' critter. Yer want me along?"

"Perhaps not, Tim. Your disappearance might cause suspicion, and send them after us. My plan is to get away as quietly as possible, and let them believe everything is all right. I want a day or two in which to work, before Rale or Kirby discover we have not gone to Bear Creek. I'll meet them alone at the spring down the trail, but shall want you somewhere near by. You see this is bound to mean a fight if I am recognized—likely three against one; and those men wouldn't hesitate at murder."

"I reckon not, an' it wouldn't be their first one neither. Looks for me like yere was takin' a big chance. I'll be there, though; yer kin bet on that; an' ready for a fight or a foot race. This is how I size it up—if that ain't no row, I'm just ter keep still an' low; an' if a fracas starts I'm ter jump in for all I'm worth. Is that the program?"

"Exactly—that's my idea."

"Well then, I'm a prayin' it starts; I want just one crack at that Kirby, the ornary cuss."

We talked the whole matter over in detail, having nothing better to do, and endeavoring to arrange for every probability, yet did not remain together for long.

I felt nervous, anxious, eager for action. The time dragged horribly. What if something unforeseen should occur to change Rale's plan? My God! if I only knew where it was they had concealed the girl.

The two of us explored about the silent cabin, but discovered nothing. There was no light visible in the rear room, nor any sound of movement within. The two windows were closed, and the door locked. We found a convenient stump in the woods and sat down to wait where we could see all that occurred about the cabin.

It was nearly twelve before even the slightest sound near at hand indicated the approach of others. I was already in an agony of suspense, imagining something might have gone wrong, when the dull scuffling of horses' hoofs being led cautiously up the trail to my right broke the intense silence.

I listened to assure myself, then shook Tim into wakefulness, leaving him still blinking in the shadow of the stump, while I advanced in the direction of the spring. I saw nothing of Rale until he spoke.

"That yer, Moffett?"

"Yes; what's yer party?"

I caught a view of his dim outlines, as he stepped slightly forward, reassured by my voice.

"They'll be yere; that's a bit o' time ter spare yit. I aimed not ter keep 'em waitin'. Here, this is yer hoss, an' yere's the leadin' strap fer the others. Better tie it ter yer pommel, I reckon, so's ter leave both yer hands free—yer might hav' need fer 'em. We'll tend ter moun'tin' the gals, an' then all yer'll hav' ter do will be ter lead off. Better walk the hosses till yer git cross the creek, so the sojers won't hear yer. Got that?"

"I reckon I hav', an' sense 'nough ter know it without bein' told. Did yer think I wanted ter be catched on this job?"

"All right, but that's no harm a tellin' yer. What's Tim gone to?"

"I reckon he don't even know hisself; he's sore sum drunk."

Rale chuckled, patting the side of the horse next him.

"Whole caboodle workin' like a charm," he said, good humoredly. "Thought once the deputy might show up ugly, but a quart o' red-eye sure fixed him—thar's our party a comin' now. Yere ter stay right whar yer are."

They were advancing toward us up the bank which sloped down toward the creek. Rale moved forward to meet them across the little open space, and a moment later, from my hiding place among the motionless horses I became able to distinguish the slowly approaching figures. There were four in the party, apparently from the garb two men and two women. The second man might be the preacher, but if so, why should he be there? Why should his presence at this time be necessary? Unless the two main conspirators had special need for his services, I could conceive no reason for his having any part in the action that night. Had I been deceived in their plans? Even as this fear overwhelmed me with consternation, I was compelled to notice how helplessly the first of the two women walked—as though her limbs refused to support her body, even though apparently upheld by the grip of the man beside her. Rale, joining them, immediately grasped her other arm, and between the two, she was impelled forward. The saloonkeeper seemed unable to restrain his voice.

"Yer mustn't give her one o' a dose," he growled, angrily. "Half o' that wud a bin' nough. Why, d— it, she kin hardly walk."

"Well, what's the odds?" It was Kirby who replied sarcastically. "She got more because she wouldn't drink. We had to make her take it, and it wasn't no easy job. Gaskins will tell you that. Have you got your man here?"

"O' course; he's waitin' thar with the hosses. But I'm d—d if I like this. She don't know nothin', does she?"

Big Lot of Hay Fever Jokes

Bot Kentucky Man Says—"People Who Belong to Hay Fever Colony are Kidding Themselves."

Wouldn't Be Any Rose or Hay Fever if Simple Home Remedy Was Given a Chance.

"Yes, there's a real NINETY-NINE per cent effective remedy for hay or rose fever," frankly states a druggist in a prosperous Kentucky city.

"But I don't expect anyone to believe me, because the treatment is so easy and the cost not worth mentioning."

"The annual crop of hay-fever jokes would be mighty scarce if people would get an ounce of Mentholized Arcline and by just adding water that has been boiled make a pint of liquid that will prove a real help to all who suffer."

"Many of my hay-fever friends tell me that by starting to gargle and snuff or spray the nostrils a few times a day the expected severe attack often fails to appear and in cases where it does show up is very mild and does not annoy."

"The Better Class of Pharmacists" who dispense Mentholized Arcline say it will greatly modify any attack even when taken three or four days after hostilities begin.

Go to a real live druggist when you get ready to make a pint.

7 A DAY FOR 7 DAYS

If Your Nerves Are Shaky Because of Over-Indulgence in Tobacco or Alcohol or by Excess of Any Kind, Bio-Feren is What You Need Right Away.

You can have nerves of steel, firm step, new courage and keen mind by putting your blood and nerves in first-class shape with mighty Bio-Feren, a new discovery, inexpensive and efficient.

Men and women who get up so tired in the morning that they have to drag themselves to their daily labor will in just a few days arise with clear mind, definite purpose and loads of ambition. All you have to do is to take two Bio-Feren tablets after each meal and one at bedtime—7 a day for 7 days—then reduce to one after each meal until all are gone.

Then if your energy and endurance have been dulled, if your mind isn't keener and eyes brighter, if you don't feel twice as ambitious as before, any druggist anywhere will return the purchase price—gladly and freely.

Bio-Feren is without doubt the grandest remedy for nervous, run-down, weary, anemic men and women ever offered and is not at all expensive. All druggists in this city and vicinity have a supply on hand—sell many packages.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

William McCormick
Of Connellsville.

To the Voters of Fayette County:

I was one of two candidates nominated for County Commissioner by the Democrats of Fayette county at the Primary Election on Tuesday, September 16. The important duties of this office are fully appreciated by me. Willful waste of the funds of the taxpayers or constructive expenditure of the public funds is due to the administration of the office of county commissioner. I have always been an advocate of 100 per cent service. I have always argued that a county commissioner must watch his receipts and his expenses. For several years I have been director of streets in the city of Connellsville and the experience gained in that work equips me, I believe, for some of the most important duties of a county commissioner. I earnestly solicit the support and influence of voters of all parties at the general election in November. Very sincerely,

WILLIAM MCCORMICK,
Connellsville, Pa.

FOR THE WOMAN WHO LIKES INDIVIDUALITY—and what woman does not—

There is significance in the fact that all our better suits are "one of a kind" models. We have purchased them exclusively for this territory and have no duplicates.

MOREOVER, THERE'S EXCLUSIVENESS—

in fabric as well as in model. The thing which is making it worth women's while to buy the season's beautiful suits not merely for today, but for tomorrow, also, is because the Duvetyn family is the greatest aristocrat woollens have ever known, being made from the fleece of Australia's finest merinos. To the Duvetyn family belong duvet de laines, peach bloom and other cloths of suede-like softness and irreproachable class. Never, at any price, have American or French weavers offered such truly beautiful woollens, have dyers produced such soft, rich, deep colors as those weaves and those colors shown this year in the new 1919 suits now on our racks.

For $29.75 $35.00 & $39.75

These are tailor models in Poplin, Serge, Velour and Mixtures. Very attractive and presenting splendid values for general and street wear. Semi-tailored and dress suits are found in a few weaves at this price.

For $45, $55, $65 & $75

Here one finds a greater variety in finer fabrics, including fine Men's Wear Serges, Tricotine, Velour, Tinseltone, Silver-tone and Velour Check. Fur trimmings, braid, plain tailored effects and the new Chin Chin collars feature various models in this group, which is representative of what many women want in a good suit for any need.

For $85.00 & $150.00

The finest materials, the most exquisite workmanship have gone into the suits in this group which is comprehensive of the very best the season has to offer. Some have longer coats than others, some are strictly tailored. Others semi-tailored and still others dressy, but each is as individual as time and painstaking thought and skill could make it. In this group are suits of Duvet de Laine, Duvetyn, Tinseltone, Tricotine, Silver-tone, and others of the soft, lustrous woollens of the season. Hudson seal, Australian opossum, Nutria and squirrel trim many of them, but many, too, are distinguished the more because of the exquisite tailoring which has gone into their perfection. Pussy Willow Taffeta in plain colored or gorgeous floral or conventional designs line them.

The colors are Seal Brown, Reindeer, Rose Taupe, Pekin Blue and Navy.
